

The image features a cream-colored background with a complex, abstract geometric pattern of black lines. These lines vary in thickness and orientation, creating a sense of dynamic movement and depth. Some lines are straight and parallel, while others intersect at various angles, forming a web-like structure. The lines are distributed across the entire frame, with some areas being more densely packed than others. The overall effect is one of a modern, minimalist design.

Will we finally come to the end of our four years at Case, but I hope our friendship doesn't end here. We've had so many happy times together... Drama I... Comp IV... Homeroom, all those awful stagecraft classes, the elevators, the halls, the Streds, the Lennies, the Slaves and all our other happy times will be stored in my memory forever, (Jerry, Clarence, those Oldies but Goodies, Mr. Fine) your "Does my hair look alright today?", "Boy, is he fine", "Lots of money... fine car" will be forever kept in mind (along with your Love Speech).

Stay fine and cool, keep your sharp personality and you'll never have to worry about getting all the happiness and success you want out of life. Keep in touch.

 cass technical high school 1962

1958 through 1962: I don't think that any of us will ever forget these four years. They were the eight terms that we spent at Cass: loving it, hating it; spending almost two hours on the bus every day to get to it, until we became upperclassmen and could start a car pool so that we could ride in comfort; selling Mary Pish pins, hotdogs, paintings; skiing with the hostel club; and doing just about everything that you can do when you go to a school for four years, eight hours a day.

These four years at Cass might be called the "modern age." This was when science fiction turned into science fact, when, instead of watching Captain Video or the Space Cadets, we got up at six-thirty to watch the moon shot from Cape Canaveral. This was when skirts got shorter and shorter, socks got higher and higher, and Italy started a run on loafers and a curious combination of crisp bread, cheese, sausage, mushrooms, and hot sauce. This was when girls let their hair grow so that they could rat it, and boys got theirs cut into Princetons. While the boys were wearing tight pants, girls were wearing stitch-down pleated skirts, and they were both wearing sweaters and parkas.

We are only one in a long line of graduating classes.

Despite Cass' age, she is still a modern school, doing her best to keep up with the antics of a modern world which has fostered modern teenagers. To us, Cass was not a school to which we just went — went to classes and then came home. No, we continued to disprove the idea that when a person comes to Cass he or she gives up all hope for a social life of any sort. We'll remember our first high school dance, the Pigskin Prom, our first class meeting, when all the Freshman class officers came from 517. We'll remember the Sophomore class picnic, the football games when we cheered ourselves hoarse and then went to parties afterward where we could talk about Cass finally having a winning football team.

But a winning football team, at long last, wasn't all that kept us at Cass. We realized that Cass, by keeping up with the educational demands that a modern world put forth, was giving us one of the best high school educations possible. We'll remember the hours and hours we worked on algebra equations, geometry theories, physics experiments; the times we made chlorine gas and distilled water in chemistry, and dissected frogs in biology. We suffered through midsemesters, finals, six week tests, quizzes, papers to be written, books to be read. We muttered

through our innumerable cups of coffee that we couldn't take it, that we were transferring out, and some of us did. Others filled out transfer slips at the end of June and decided to stay at Cass after all, come September. And those of us who stuck it out, for four long and short years, are the ones who are lucky. We have had the experience of living through our own modern age at a modern high school. We are prepared to go out and take our place in a modern world.

When we leave Cass, each of us seniors will take certain special memories with us. For some it will be the memories of the school plays, the painting and construction, the publicity, the glamour, the sweat, the hard work, the joy that comes when a person knows he has done a good job. Others will remember the great friends we made, and we'll be glad that Cass gave us a chance to meet people of different neighborhoods, different backgrounds than ourselves. Still others will remember the clubs and activities that contributed to making our four years at Cass very special ones.

This yearbook is dedicated to all the students of the "modern age." This includes the age in which I lived, and the one that is coming up next. Because each age is modern, each age has something in it that is entirely different from anything that has been or that will be. These things are brought about by the students who express their hopes, fears, likes and dislikes to the rest of the world. These four years were our modern age, we seniors, but the rest of the Cassites are still living in theirs. So we will move ahead, a little frightened, a little excited, a little thrilled, into our rightful places in society, because we are adults now, or nearly so.

This odd combination of emotions that we feel as we leave Cass is much the same as we had when we came down here to the big old school on Second and Henry, for the very first time. The 1962 Triangle will help to preserve those memories of our four years at Cass. The cartoons in these pages are mirrors now, and reminders in twenty five years, when there is still another modern age, of the age that we helped to create. We are leaving our stamp on the history of Cass Tech., and it is now up to the rest of the students, the ones who will take our places in the years to come, to continue to make Cass the modern school, in behavior and beliefs, that it is today.

MR. LYNN GORDON

Mr. Lynn Gordon will retire this June after many years of service to the Detroit public schools. He joined the Cass mathematics department in September, 1938. Previously, he had taught mathematics at the Barstow and Wilson schools and chemistry at MacKenzie High School.

He earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan, graduating in chemical engineering. He later received his master's degree in education from Wayne State University.

Besides academic interests, Mr. Gordon has been active in masonry and is a 32nd and 33rd degree mason and past Master of his lodge. For the past eleven years he has been State Secretary for The Sons of the American Revolution, a patriotic organization.

His other enjoyments come from photography and from his summer home at Torch Lake. The past year has been spent in superintending the "winterizing" of this summer home to make it livable for the entire year.

Mr. Gordon's friends at Cass wish him a long and happy retirement spent in doing all the things he has looked forward to for so long.

Mr. Glenn Klepinger is retiring this June after sixteen years as head of the Music and Performing Arts Departments. Mr. Klepinger, in addition to his duties as department head, is director of the choir, and teaches vocal and strings classes.

Outside of school Mr. Klepinger has sung in the Orpheus Club, several church choirs in metropolitan Detroit, and has been a member of the Ford Sunday Evening Hour Chorus. He belongs to the Northwest Kiwanis Club, the Bushnell Congregational Church, and for the past ten years he has been director of the Schoolmen's Chorus. For five years he was director of the Boys Camp on Presque Isle.

Mr. Klepinger was born and raised in Dayton, Ohio, where he attended public schools. He later attended Manchester College, where he played on the Varsity basketball team. After spending a summer at Chatauqua, where he appeared as a member of a vocal quartet, he came to Michigan at the request of one of the Detroit Superintendents. From 1921 to 1925 he taught choir, band, and orchestra in Eton Rapids, Michigan. In addition to his musical activities, he was coach of the basketball team, which made the state finals. In 1925 the Eton Rapids Music Department won the class C competition at Mt. Pleasant.

As a result of the outstanding work done in Eton Rapids, Mr. Byrn, head of the Cass Music Department, asked Mr. Klepinger if he would come to teach in Detroit. In 1926 he came to Detroit as director of vocal music and instructor in music appreciation at Eastern High. Four years later he was sent to Northeastern High, where he was chairman of the music department for ten years, and in 1940 he went to Chadsey as department head. He became the head of the music department at Cass in the fall of 1946.

Mr. Klepinger's future plans include travel in Europe and the United States, and directing the Melbourne Village Community Chorus. He is interested in tropical plants and flowers, and plans to do shrub gardening, as well as enjoying his eight grandchildren.

MR. GLENN KLEPINGER

MRS. GRACE KNERR MOLZOFF

Mrs. Molzoff, who was born in Chicago, Illinois, moved with her family to Louisville, Kentucky, where her schooling begun. She completed her elementary education and two years of high school in Dayton, Ohio, after which her parents became residents of Detroit, Michigan. She then entered the Music department of Cass Technical High School from which she received her high school diploma.

Her college education, including a wide variety of music and academic courses, was pursued at Wayne State University and the University of Michigan. A degree was conferred upon her by Wayne State.

Her thirty-eight years of public school teaching in Detroit began in 1924. The first ten years she taught flute in the elementary schools and part-time piano in the day and evening classes at Cass Tech.

Eventually she became a full-time instructor at Cass. Her teaching schedule has included piano, theory, and harmony. For many years the students have sought and received her advice and counsel.

In appreciation of her wonderful teaching years at Cass, we wish for her many years of happy retirement; and may all of her desires be fulfilled!

administration

from the principal

"Time and tide wait for no man." (English proverb)

Four years have come and gone. Just a short period of time in one's span of life. They were rather care free and happy years, very important years, in many respects, as well. Many friendships were formed. Happy occasions and important events were registered in your memory. To some extent you "grew up" during this period of time and discovered you had talents, a personality, and mental and physical abilities with which to do things that gave you some satisfaction and pleasure through accomplishment.

Your high school yearbook holds within its contents, in picture book form, the story of your high school years. It somewhat depicts your progress over a period of time. This is the real purpose of this publication. It will always remain a treasure chest of memories for you. Your yearbook staff has fulfilled its obligation by producing the finest and most complete record of this current school roster of pupils, especially of the January and June graduates of 1962.

Although the yearbook is purchased by you today as a treasure chest for tomorrow, the real significance of this document will be more emphasized for you twenty-five years from now. It will be one of your cherished possessions to review from time to time with your many friends.

To the sponsor and the staff our thanks and appreciation for a job well done — a production of which you can be proud over the years to come.

The Cass Art Department prepares the talented student for many different art careers. In the art curriculum, English, languages, mathematics, social studies, and science courses are combined with a wide variety of art courses that give the student a college preparatory diploma. Some of the art graduate work immediately in the fields of commercial art, commercial display, and art crafts, but almost all continue their studies in art schools and in the art departments of colleges; often they receive advanced credit for some of the art courses taken at Cass. Eventually, most graduates work in the fields of commercial art, fine arts, art crafts, industrial design, interior design, commercial display, architectural rendering, art teaching, art history, art museums and other highly specialized art areas.

In the tenth and eleventh grades, foundation courses are taken by all art students. These include: color and design, freehand drawing, lettering, watercolor, life drawing and art history. In the twelfth grade, specialized work is offered in poster, pen and ink, wash, print-making, costume illustration, jewelry and crafts. A limited number of these subjects is elected by all students, depending on the direction of their interests.

Reports of alumni successes come to proud Cass art teachers with gratifying regularity.

automotive technology, astronautics, refrigeration, and air conditioning

The Astronautical, Automotive Technology, and Air Conditioning Curricula provide students with a specialized technical education. Each curriculum includes laboratory, English, social studies, mechanical drawing, chemistry, physics, and mathematics. The student graduates with a college preparatory diploma. Upon graduation he is ready to follow an engineering career or be employed in industry on a technical level at the occupation for which he has been trained.

The Astronautical Curriculum covers hand tools, aircraft engines, airframes, welding, aerodynamics, meteorology, instruments, and navigation.

The laboratory work in the Automotive Technology Curriculum consists of the practical and technical aspects of hand tools, engines, power units, instruments and analyzers, and automotive servicing.

The Air Conditioning Curriculum includes the construction, installation and servicing of domestic, commercial, and industrial air conditioning and refrigeration units.

The Driver Training program is designed to develop competent, safety conscious drivers adjusted to the problems of today's driving requirements.

The Science-Engineering Technology Curriculum has been designed for those students who are interested in becoming mechanical, industrial and tool engineers or technicians. The curriculum provides excellent training for people to meet the challenge of the Automation-age. In addition to a good foundation in math, chemistry, physics and English, students gain experience in industrial machines, industrial hydraulics, electronics, automation technology, materials and processes, drafting and industrial management.

Akivah Drasnin

George Eklund

George Kantor

The Mechanical Drafting Curriculum has been developed for those who are interested in becoming engineers, designers or draftsmen. The curriculum provides opportunities for a student to specialize in three areas: Product Design, Body Styling and Tool-Die Design. Correlated with the drafting courses designed to enrich our students' background such as industrial electronics, hydraulics, industrial machines, materials and processes, math and science.

Robert Kerns

The Architectural Drafting and Building Curriculum provides experience for young men and women interested in architecture, architectural engineering, civil engineering and general construction technology. The curriculum provides the student with study in architectural design and drafting,, surveying, heating and ventilation, plumbing, construction methods and materials, in addition to a rich academic program.

electronics & electrical

The Electrical-Electronics Department is continually revising its courses of study equipment used. We are constantly checking with industrial committees to keep abreast of the latest developments. There are new products and methods being discovered and put to use every day. Although, we are not able to keep up to the minute with industry, we are able to teach a very thorough and practical fundamental course covering the basic principles of the operation and construction of electrical equipment. Our graduating students are able to enter the best colleges of engineering and do exceedingly well.

Those of our students wishing to enter the world of work find very favorable jobs as electrical helpers or assistants to journeymen. Many shops in the Detroit area are run by or managed by our graduates.

The Graphic Arts Curriculum is organized to prepare young men for entrance into the printing industry on technical level. It provides an opportunity for developing a broad knowledge and experience in the standard printing processes which are necessary for entrance and advancement in the various branches of printing.

In order to more fully meet the needs of the students enrolled in Graphic Arts, as well as, the trend in the industry, a new curriculum has been developed which will provide basic instruction and practical experience in all phases of offset lithography. Students will progress through carefully graded lessons and have experience with the camera, both black and white and color, as well as, an opportunity to develop basic skills in offset press-work.

As this new curriculum is perfected, we will have the assistance of our Printing Advisory Committee composed of eleven men representing all segments of the graphic arts.

Clothing and Textiles, Family and Community Service, Foods and Nutrition and Health and Welfare are the areas of study in the Home Economics Curriculum. In each of these students are given a well-rounded background and technical training in their chosen field of interest.

For the students terminating formal education with high school graduation, there will be preparation so that they may work in food service, retail establishments, doctor and dentist offices, hospitals and laboratories.

However, those wishing to further their education in a professional career will find the curriculum an excellent foundation for clothing and design, counseling, food service, home service and decoration, nursing, research, retailing, social work and teaching.

Since home economics deals basically with the art and science of living, the students have an opportunity to enrich their preparation for effective living in the home and community.

The musical experience afforded students at Cass is scarcely equalled in any school in this country. Many of our graduates are taking positions in symphony orchestras throughout the United States. We expect a high standard of performance and by hard work and endless practice we maintain this standard.

The purpose of the Performing Arts Department is to train students who wish to specialize in interpretative reading, radio and television, discussion and debate, public speaking, speech science and theatre. Some of our graduates are doing outstanding work in theatre and related fields because of their preparation at Cass.

The strength of this curriculum is evidenced by the outstanding production being performed by our students.

The Science Curriculum at Cass is designed to prepare students for some type of career related to science. Many of our graduates have become medical doctors, dentists, teachers, research scientists of many varieties, metallurgists, physicists and technicians. A student who graduates from this curriculum with good grades is qualified to pursue scientific work at any college or to enter industry as a technician. This latter category is important since a portion of our students find it financially desirable to obtain employment for a year or so immediately after high school. Industry finds that it is an advantage to hire our graduates, since they have acquired enough laboratory skills and theoretical knowledge to work in control laboratories.

The courses offered are not easy, but they do challenge the student, and if the student accepts the challenge, he is afforded an excellent opportunity to develop his talents in the scientific field.

ARE
AROUND THE CORNER

A milestone's about to happen. Your graduation marks a decisive period in your life. Behind is an important, formative period of learning. And ahead?

The course is yours to choose, whether it be more study or the start of a career. We at Michigan Consolidated Gas Company join friends and family in wishing you well in your new adventures . . . hoping that your new-worlds-to-conquer outlook never dims.

MICHIGAN CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY

science & arts

Geraldine Dolan
Department Head

Leonard Antel
Counselor

The primary aim of the Science and Arts program is to provide pupils with an opportunity to develop their potential abilities and challenge their learning capacities. Enrichment of subject matter and the addition of electives from other curriculums at Cass provide the means of accomplishing this objective. The program is not one of acceleration; students enrolled in this curriculum are to spend the full eight semesters in high school prior to graduation.

Science and Arts students are enrolled in enriched courses in English, mathematics and social studies, and are expected to maintain a 'B' academic average. There is also an opportunity for additional academic electives.

It is felt that this curriculum offers unusual opportunities for academically talented students to acquire more knowledge and develop their creative abilities. While the emphasis in the curriculum is primarily academic, the student is expected to elect at least four courses from one of the technical curriculums.

The 1961-62 basketball team can be remembered with pride by all Cassites. Finishing the regular season tied with Northern for third place, the Technicians' capabilities were honored by the Free Press when Mr. Elbert Richmond was selected coach of the year and John Sinson as All East Side. Taking in stride the loss of January graduates 6'10" Dorie Murrie and rebounder Roland Owens, Cass won a district trophy and went on to be regional runner-ups in this first year of Detroit's return to the state tournament.

LONG GONE

RICK—

Always remember: Tom's cottage, "Guns of the Navarone", "The Way You Look Tonight", a white dress, boat rides in the rain, buddy breathing in Lake St. Clair, the Idle Hour, soaping windows, playing twins, New Year's Eve, corned beef at Billy's, a red XKE, no hem in a navy skirt, sharing thoughts, and most of all — remember me.

----- triangle staff

Its very difficult for me, as a senior, to write the final words of the Triangle. I know that I am closing not only this book, but four years, wonderful years, at Cass.

The plays, the proms and the people I loved are all pictured in these pages. The mornings asleep in the auditorium, the narrow back halls, the teachers I argued and joked with—all the memories are here.

And they'll be here for five, ten, twenty years. They will always be stored in this book for everyone—or the 1962 Triangle will not have served its purpose.

Thank you Rachel, Mr. and Mrs. Obel, staff and art students.

Rose, hasn't Cass Tech. been been easy, but it has been a enlightening! See you at State.
Love,
Eleanor

Rose -
You are one of the prettiest & most perfect people I know. It has really been a pleasure knowing you. You should come over to see during the summer. (Miss the boys.) (Hahaha)

Rose

It has been a been a blast knowing you even if it has only been a few ~~years~~ months
Lots of Luck always Love Tom

Rosie, Babe!

Best of luck to a cool chick I've immensely enjoyed knowing these past struggling year of Cars.

Rose,
though well, even though you have made a lot of changes from the 9th grade, you're still Rose and hope as sweet as ever. I sure hope your college years are great.
If I know you! Only the best for Rose! Pretty soon you'll be Mrs. Steinberg no more such norm!
Love
Dana

Rose,
 Best wishes to you for your years of service of sparks with your. I remember I am here at sure of yourself.
